Ron Williamson presented facts about zoning for the city of Overbrook and a radius of three miles around the city. The cost of his company's complete plan for Overbrook and the surrounding area would be approximately $1700 to 1800. The first step if the city wishes to go into zoning would be to establish a planning commission.

Mr. Williamson then discussed a solid waste disposal plan. He asked the council to consider going along with a county wide program for solid waste disposal which would cost the city of Overbrook about $187.00 per month. The council agreed to give consideration to the Bucher & Willis plans for zoning and for solid waste disposal.
